

Mark Bush

I believe that the Government has been breaking the law. I believe they are breaking the law because they make people under the age of 18 to pay taxes, with out representation in our Government.

For the year 2006, anyone between the age of 14 and 17, that worked legally will have to file taxes. Although people between the age of 14 and 17 will have to file taxes, they are not allowed to vote on who represents them. This is breaking the law, because it is Taxing without Representation. The Government should either stop taxing People working between the age of 14 and 17, or they should allow us to vote in elections.

Personally I think the Government should just stop taxing us until we are 18. But if they really need our tax dollars I have no problem voting.